“ I'm so sorry for your loss. I too know the sting of death. The memories of good times will carry you thru these sad days. I hope that you can surround yourself with family and those who can build you up with the comfort you need. There is the best support found in God's word. Please read Isaiah 25:8. Death will soon be a thing of the past and there will be no more tears. Take care of yourself and let the scriptures fill you with hope and promise.

“ I met Bill when I came over to visit John during our college years in the mid 80's. I don't remember exactly when or if there was an occasion. He and Trudy were gracious hosts and very welcoming. I was a quite often regular fixture for several years, having been made to feel like family. There were many memories made during those years which he and the rest of his family became extended family for me. I am truly at a loss for words to describe my feelings adequately at the family's loss now. While his illness and eventual passing has been known for awhile, giving time to come to terms with his leaving, it is still not easy to not feel a large hole from it. Online time will bring a more complete coming to terms with his passing. I'm sending my love to everyone with my hopes that time will quickly allow the healing process to begin. Love to you all, Owen Edge

“ We send our condolences to Trudy, John, Mary. I have some great memories of your father and husband from the times when I came to visit or a family wedding. I included two photos of the three brothers from childhood to adults. Uncle Bill has always been very thoughtful toward us. We are sorry for your loss and know that you are in our prayers.
