“ My heart aches for you, Sasha's family, as well as for his friends. He was such a pleasure to be around, and will be missed by everyone whose life he touched. I taught him English at West GA for two semesters, and I always appreciated his positive attitude, winning smile, and friendly banter. He was, and will always be, a bright and shining example of deportment. Words cannot express the sadness I feel as a result of his abrupt passing. Although he was small in stature, he made a huge impact. My thoughts and prayers are with you during this very sad time.

“ The Apostle Paul was taken into heaven for just a glimpse, and he spent the rest of his life reassuring: “No eye has seen, no ear has heard, and no mind has imagined what God has prepared for those who love him.” I Corinthians 2:9 Words and thoughts of this world can not describe what God has waiting for us in the next. We are excited that Sasha is surrounded by and penetrated with the pure love of God! Our prayer is that you will be comforted in knowing that you will join him. The McClouds

“ I was shocked to hear the news about Sasha. I remember Sasha when he was in my RA class at CBC. He was the most fun to watch and talk to. He was always smiling and enjoyed hiding from me under the benches before I came up to the RA room on Wed. nights. He went on our camping trip to West Point Lake with the RA's and we had a great game of kick ball and I went out on the little sail boat with him. He was so energetic and full of life. His spirit is alive in my heart and mind. My prayers are with you.

“ I did not personally know Sasha, but every morning during my duty behind the Science building Sasha would greet me with a wonderful "Smile", and "Hello, good morning to you". I stopped him one day and asked him how he was doing, he told me he couldn't be better. I also asked him if he was a wrestler, he seems so fierce. He said it was just the muscles, don't let them fool you. He just smiled and went upstairs in the science building. Please know that my thoughts and prayers go out to your family. May God Bless you, Mrs. Robin Norris
