“ Even though you are no longer here, we will all still hold you dear. Your light, your laugh, and your love will bring joy to those above. You have touched all in your life with love. Now you float with wings of a dove. We will truly miss you so very much. You had a truly and lovely heavenly touch. Your life was a great example to us all. I can only hope to have touched as many as you once I hear the the call. To come to heaven where we shall meet once more. And spend eternity in heaven on that golden shore.
