

Audrey Fay Rogers

January 6, 1927 - June 25, 2013

Fay Rogers Revills 1927-2013

Audrey Fay Revills Rogers, 86, died of a stroke. She was born January 6, 1927 in Brooks County Georgia to May Hill Wilkes Revills and Julian Seabrook (Brook) Revills and grew up in nearby Cook County. Fay was a working mother supporting her family in the 1950s and beyond before childcare facilities and flex time. Over the years, she was employed in administrative positions with businesses and various government agencies.

As a child, she skipped grades to graduate from Sparks-Adel High School at age 15 in 1942 and began work. In 1950, she married WWII veteran Walter Hicks Rogers, Jr. The young couple lived in Athens, Georgia while he completed studies to be a veterinarian and she worked with USDA. The next stop was Graceville, Florida. Moving next to Thomasville, they remained in Georgia for the rest of their lives. Valdosta became home in 1955. There Fay began her career with the Social Security Administration, becoming one of the early female hires as a claims representative.

She retired from government service while living Gainesville, Georgia in 1985. Over the years she discovered an interest in investments and followed the stock market avidly. She continued to read, garden, travel and shop for antiques after retiring to Moultrie. In addition to chocolate and desserts, she always enjoyed collecting art glass and trips with friends and family. Destinations included Switzerland, Argentina, England, Scotland, Wales, Mexico, Italy, Japan, Hong Kong, New Zealand and Canada. She also visited New England, New York, San Francisco, Austin, Alaska, Key West, Mobile and the Western U.S. Although she had limited interest in cooking and always advised against “getting fat on bad food,” she was open to trying different cuisines and readily shared her recipe for cinnamon toast.

“ So sorry for your loss. Your mother was such a lady. The "Come as You Are" party we had on the front porch of your house will always be a fond memory of mine growing up. My prayers are with you. So many of us are going through difficult times with our parents so I truly understand.
