“ Brian, Although we haven't seen each other in 20 years, I consider you one of my truest friends. I've frequently thought of you and spoke of you in recent years. I have so much to thank you for. You have finished your work here on earth, but you will live on through the thoughts and actions of all of us that you've touched and influenced in your own special way. I send all of my strength, prayers and love to your family and friends. Until we meet again... rest in peace B. Your friend, Brian

“ When God reached down and called for your soul, you were resting at peace, and you must have known it was time to go. While many may question how and why, I will always choose to remember that huge, bright smile and that strong and deliberate voice. You smiled with your eyes... and it is an image that will always persevere and one that I will always hold dear. I believe that His Heaven needs angels, and I know that your purpose will be served, not solely here on earth, but from the heavens above. Love to you my cousin....

“ (got cut off sorry for the long wind but Brian deserves it)... It's so surreal. Things going relatively great and without any cause for alarm or sense of urgency you slip away from us in the cover of night. Glad you went peacefully but it was too soon and without proper goodbyes. Ironic that the reading for mass on Sunday was from Matthew 24, “Therefore keep watch, because you do not know on what day your Lord will come... So you also must be ready, because the Son of Man will come at an hour when you do not expect him.” Hard lessons will be learned from this type of an exit Brian. Mason will have to turn this pain into some useful motivation one day. From past experience Big Nanny is dealing with the worst kind of pain I have witnessed. You need to visit them in any way possible as often as you can. My condolences to Jay, all our family, and especially Mason and Big Nanny. I love you Brian. Thank you for your time. You will never be forgotten. On behalf of my mother and I, Love, Light & Blessings as you continue on your journey

“ Dear Iris, My heart was broken to hear of Brian's passing. It is difficult to put into words how you feel for someone at this time. I just feel that God must have needed Brian in Heaven with him now so he called him home sooner. I will always remember Brian by that beautiful heart and the ability to make me smile. As always you are in my daily thoughts and prayers along with Jaynard and Mason. Please know if you need anything all you need to do is call. Love, Susan

“ Brian, it's still so hard to believe you are gone - gone too soon from us. But God has you at his side now and we all have a new guardian angel watching over us now - and if anyone is up for that job, I know it's you Brian. You always had an amazing loyalty and genuine compassion towards others, especially your family and friends. My childhood memories of you bring such a warm joy to my heart. I will never forget how you always made me feel included when we came out from Cali to visit. Here I was the only girl tagging along with your crew of friends, but that didn't bother you. You always made sure your cousin from Cali felt welcomed and you always rolled out the New Orleans hospitality spirit. You were my childhood buddy. And even though as adults, we followed our busy adult life paths, you always held a special place in my heart and you will forever be my buddy. Please give Granny a big hug for me...I'm sure she's up there with you now bickering with you over making your bed, tucking in your shirt, tying your shoes...etc..etc...true Granny fashion :) I love you Brian, rest now in eternal peace my cousin. To Nanny, Cousin Janard and Mason, words cannot explain how deeply sad I am for your loss. Please know that I'm here for you if you need anything at all. I love you all and pray for your peace during your difficult time.
