

Carl Edward Gill

May 15, 1954 - February 18, 2026

Carl Edward Gill, 71, of Hogansville, Georgia, passed away on February 18, 2026.

Born in Moreland, Georgia, Carl proudly served his country in the United States Army.

After his service, he built a long and respected career as a carpenter, with skilled hands and a keen eye for detail, he crafted not only beautiful work, but a legacy of hard work and integrity. He loved anything sweet and watching YouTube at an ear-splitting decibel.

Carl was a devoted husband, father, and grandfather. He is survived by his loving wife of 53 years, Hope; his son, Matthew; his daughter, Natasha, and her husband, Don; and his cherished grandchildren, Alyssa, Meghan, and Emily. His family was his greatest pride and joy.

Carl's memory will live on in the lessons he taught, the work he built, and the family who will carry his love forward. He will be deeply missed and forever remembered. The world is much too quiet without him in it.

“ Carl showed his love for my family in his gift of a beautifully crafted doll cradle he made for my granddaughter. He was always a pleasure to be around.

Carl was a True friend, a gentleman, and a man of tremendous integrity. He was a master craftsman, and anyone who was privileged enough to have him work for them recognized this immediately. I will always cherish the long talks we would share together, and miss him every day. He was always willing to share his knowledge with you, and he gave me a masters class in carpentry as we worked together. Our blessing to his family as we share your loss.
