“ I can say so much about this beautiful soul. She was my teacher and became my neighbor when I moved into Wedgewood. She became like a mother to me. So many memories of laughter and conversations talking about dogs. She would allow me to watch her dog Ceacer whenever she would go out of town. My heart broke when I heard of her passing.

“ CT you started out as my math teacher in 10th grade from there you became a friend, mentor, and so much more. Over the years we had many great memories and times together. You sold me my first car, showed up when I wrecked the car, and was there for many of my major life events.

You helped me survive high school and was there at my graduation cheering and standing in my corner being proud for me and of me.

I have so many memories that I could ramble on and on about.

From collecting flowers from the side of the road for a wedding when the florist dropped the ball. The Kharminn Ghia Back firing and catching fire going up my drive way. The puppies born in your bed at 2:30 in the morning. When you got the news Jeannie was pregnant. Belle at the school every day when you first got her.

When my foot went through the ceiling putting in a new attic fan, and so many more different events and periods of time we shared together.

“ Carolyn, my friend, I will miss you. First, you were my 8th grade History teacher, and years later my Browns Mill Battlefield Buddy. I recognized you as my teacher at that 1st meeting and it was forever friends after that. You were headstrong and spunky, the epitome of a true leader. You will be missed by many!

jumped right on board when I asked for ppl to help with the group...

Carolyn was my mother's partner in crime, very dear friend and distant cousin. They shared a love of history and were involved in many of the same organizations. She did so much for my mother and Mama often referred to Carolyn as her "adult daughter." She was a Godsend to my brother and me in Mama's last years. Not living in town was a challenge in tending to Mama's changing needs in her last years, and I was always amazed at what Carolyn was ready to step in and help with. We can never thank her enough for that! My condolences to the family for the loss of an amazing woman.
