“ Dear Jill and Claire, We just heard about Mr Paul and are once again so sad for all of you. The two of you have been through a rough year of your own - and now to lose Mr Paul. Again, I am so sorry for your losses and for not knowing about your dad and mom in a timely manner. Our hearing late does not take away from the fact that we know what your hearts are going through. It is a huge change in your lives and Mr Paul's passing will be equally difficult for you, Jill, and our sweet Carl. Please know that we are thinking about all of you with love.

“ Fond memories of time spent with your Mom (and Dad) help ease the sorry of losing them. Your Mother sang a lovely solo at Cokes Chapel shortly after her first brain surgery. A miracle that will always remain as another evidence of God's healing powers. Thoughts and prayers are with all of the family. Love, Alice

“ No matter the circumstances you are never truly prepared to let go. Just imagine the reunion they are having in heaven. Your Dad and Mom, my Mom, Bennie, Junior, Grandmama...the list is SO long. For a long time after Mama was gone I felt this comforting presence with me. Your Mom had a strong will...I know that she will be there with you when you need her. Just close your eyes and the fabulous woman I remember patching up our skinned knees will be there to put her arms around you and walk you through this next phase of your life. She lives inside of you and me and every heart she ever touched. Know that you are in my heart always.

“ There are lots of fond memories from the Choir at Cokes Chapel. Wonder if she is leading the choir in heaven with the Sharpsburg group with Lamar, Bob and Junior. She was such a lovely person and I am so thankful that she and Lamar was our friend. Your hearts are quite heavy now but you had quite a blessing having had her as your Mother. My Mother died back in 1975 and I still miss her to this day. That is one hurt that never heals. She joined Bob Stewart just one month later. Love to each of you. Lucy
