Online condolences may be expressed to the family at www.mckoon.com

Those that knew Connie well appreciated her integrity, honor, honesty and loyalty. She was known as the “peacekeeper” of the family to her brothers and sisters, but her many nieces, nephews and grandchildren remember her as kindhearted, but a jokester. Her quick wit and beautiful singing voice will be dearly missed at gatherings of family and friends alike. Connie was a loving, generous and compassionate mother, grandmother, sister, aunt and friend. Throughout her life, Connie was a staunch advocate for women's rights and the safety and care of children and seniors. As Director of the Arkansas Agency on Aging in Blytheville, AR, and as the Director of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program in Poplar Bluff, MO, Connie provided compassion and dignity to the senior community.

After her move to GA, Connie worked at the Coweta County Department of Family and Children's Services, where she held many titles over the years and retired as Program Manager. During her employment with DFCS, she also served as a consultant to the state office in the Policy and Procedures Division and was responsible for helping to mold the state policy regarding children's safety. During her long career with DFCS she was personally responsible for stabilizing many families and protecting the rights and safety of numerous children. She was a dynamic force in Coweta County and will be dearly missed.

Connie made a lasting impression on anyone that she met. In her last months, she requested that "I Did it My Way" be the theme of her memorial service. In many ways, that was also the theme of her life and almost always "her way" was the right way.

If you would like to make a donation in Connie's honor, she requested that donations be made to St. Jude Children's Hospital or caringbridge.org.

Connie will be honored with a memorial service at McKoon Funeral Home, 38 Jackson St. Newnan, GA at 7:00 pm on May 25th, 2012. The family will be wearing red in honor of her vibrant spirit and anyone that wishes to join us in this tribute is welcome.
