“ Danny was a truly special person; someone who had a remarkable ability to connect with people on a personal level. He listened with empathy, understood the heart of the matter, and always worked toward solutions with a smile and a sense of humor that lifted those around him. His presence made a difference every day.

He often spoke with great pride and joy about his family, especially his grandchildren. I remember how fondly he talked about the time they spent together at his pool. It was clear how much he cherished those moments.

Danny's warmth, dedication, and spirit will be deeply missed, but his legacy will live on in the many lives he touched.

Wow... So sorry to hear about Danny's passing. I worked with him for many years at Siemens. He was always there for a good laugh or a helping hand. He was a great coworker and kept his customers happy. RIP my friend.

“ Considering that we worked in different departments, our paths did not cross as frequently as in the past. However, when we did talk, Danny was always cheerful, helpful, practical and positive about how the issue could be addressed. Work has always been challenging for me, Danny made work challenges seem like water off a Duck's back! I will miss those calls and the voice that made problems seem like no big deal!

Thanks for your kindness and friendship Danny, you made many days, for many people, much brighter!
