Bob was a true example of a "colleague"; he was there for his patients, caring deeply about each of them. As we worked together and shared conversations about treatment, life, and personal life, it was never outside of his capacity to care for another. I admired Bob's devotion to his family, friends, and patients. My life was deeply touched by Bob and I learned a great deal from his knowledge and willingness to share his knowledge. Our world used all the love he could give and gave him rich experiences, which he turned into wisdom. Your love and counsel will not be forgotten.

Bob was loved and admired by many and especially The Tuscaloosa City School System. Serving as The Director of Special Education I had the opportunity to work with Bob for many years. We contracted with Bob for services working with our students regarding Autism as well as other areas. It was in 2015 Bob visited my husband, daughter (Beth, who had Angelman Syndrome) and I following a house fire that left us displaced. It would be a few short months following that visit that Bob was instrumental in saving our daughter's life. Bob had extensive background with individuals with rare disorders. It was Bob who lead the group who worked with UAB in making the necessary adjustments to her treatment plan. Bob will always hold a special place in my husband and my hearts. He will be sorely missed.

Bob Babcock , icon, started seeing George when was 3 years old until today. He was a huge advocate for individuals with disabilities and beloved psychologists to so many. Bob passed away this morning. Bob was one of the doctors who evaluated Georges program at Hannan Elementary MCSD school for services. He testified in Clay Lands federal courtroom. Teachers and children did not have the tools for success and George (others) was being hurt.

He's one of the doctor reports and advocate who we based our lawsuit on and one reason why we have autism classrooms today in Mcsd. He always said, you are Georges voice till we get him one.

Dr Babcock a big part of the Owen family for many years. He loved our daughter unconditionally. Bob had a marvelous sense of humor, an amazing intellect, an intuitive sense of what to say to our daughter and to us, her family. We all learned from "Dr. B" how to problem-solve, prioritize, and to always think outside the box. He shared his life with us also. How proud he was of his daughter and son and his love for them and their mother was enormous. To fix love again was a beautiful thing for Bob.

He is gone too soon and he will be missed by clients who became his dear friends. Thank you for sharing your Gifts. Yours was a life well-lived. Thank you Dr Babcock. Rest in peace, my friend.

“ It is hard to put into words how much Dr. Bob meant to our family. He came into our lives through the Emory Adult Autism Center. At the time, our son Chris was in an extremely difficult position. Through the next 7 years, Dr. Bob help him learn to cope with his situation and look at what were his options. He always was available to Chris, be it day or night to take his call. They joked together. It was very evident that they had a special relationship. We are eternally grateful for Dr. Bob and all of his help.

“ Dr. Bob made, and will continue to make, an amazing impact on the world. As so many have said, he was truly an amazing clinician who understood and truly cared about the people in his care. Another colleague taught me long ago that, "your clients won't care how much you know until they know how much you care". Anyone who interacted with Dr Bob KNEW how much he cared. The beauty of Dr Bob was he cared about EVERYONE! He was brilliant, but I always described him as someone who could think in the stratosphere, but talk in language that anyone could understand. He also loved to teach. I had the privilege of watching him teach clients, parents, staff, and even my college students he could tailor his presentation to any audience to keep their attention and truly educate them. I love you Doc, and will miss you my friend.

“ Bob was brilliant and one of the top in his field of ABA. All of that paled in comparison to what made him truly great, he was the most caring and selfless caretaker of people that I have ever encountered. Our Brightstone community is truly heartbroken and we feel privileged to have had in our world.

“ The first time I met Bob was in conjunction with a visit to his PhD advisor, Beth Sulzer-Azaroff and a seminar attended by Bob and other students. Beth was to drive me to the airport and Bob volunteered to be my chaufför in Beth’s car. We were cruising down the highway completely absorbed in talking about the topics from the seminar; oblivious to the world around us. To our surprise Bob gets pulled over for speeding - in his professor’s car. Shock and embarassment for both of us. And, Bob got a fine as a result of being a nice guy. I felt "guilty" too, and sent him a check for 50% of the fine. Don’t remember exactly what we talked about but remember his intelligence, friendliness and enthusiasm. We maintained sporadic contact over the years.

“ Bob was a dear friend and colleague for many years. I will miss our late afternoon gabfests. His knowledge base of autism and behavior was so vast and I would seek him out for very difficult cases. He always had suggestions and took the time to listen to the particulars. I will always remember him playing his guitar up at CHOTA around the campfire and his booming laugh. We will all miss you terribly, Bob. You had a zest for life that is rarely duplicated. Rest in peace.
