“ I had the privilege of knowing Erin when she and I worked together at Georgia Southern. She was a dedicated professional, striving to be the best teacher that she could and exhibited compassion for her students when they grieved. I admired her enthusiasm, her openness to new ideas, and her desire to continue to grow as a writer and as a teacher. My deepest sympathy to her family and friends. Phyllis Dallas

“ My heart is very sad for Hal, Cheryl, Brian and Cameron not to mention all of Erin's beloved animals as they will miss her too. Erin was always so sweet and lady like. I admired her for her independence and studiousness. I also admired her for the strength she displayed all throughout her illness. I hate that her life was such a struggle for almost the last two years. I am thankful that she is no longer suffering. She is now free of cancer and all pain. She is now a shining, radiant angel living in glory. I am praying that God would bring peace, comfort and healing to her family and loved ones.

“ Erin's colleagues at Georgia Southern University are deeply grieved at her passing. I saw how she cared for students and brought enthusiasm, joy, and a love of learning into the classroom. She touched many lives, and I'm grateful to have known her even for a brief period. I wish for peace for Erin's friends and family during this difficult time.
