“ Frank worked with our dad, Donald Moore, who passed away in November 2009. Although Daddy had advanced Alzheimers- he would remember Frank and the good times they had working together. He was always wanting to go and visit with him one more time. I guess they are together talking about work right now! He was a good friend to daddy and I know he will be missed by all you kids and his brother and sisters. Losing a father is a sad, sad thing and you are in my thoughts...
