“ I thought Patrick Cox was a super great guy. I was deeply saddened to hear about his passing. We became friends back in 1988 . We lost touch in the 1990s after Patrick met Karen and started his family. Which I came to understand when that special person for entered my life and we created a family through Christ. My best memories of Patrick Cox was when we were both members at Heatherwood Baptist church and we were hanging at restaurant and Patrick was sharing the love of Jesus with this big black man who was deeply moved by Patrick's words. That's because Patrick lived those words. He loved God and I know God loves him. I always regretted the fact that we lost touch . I regretted more hearing of his passing.

“ I considered Pat a good friend one of my fondest a memories was in the early 80s we went to Panama City for spring break and my back window exploded I freaked out but Pat said let's clear out the glass ride in the back window so we did up and down the strip all weekend. Buddy I'm sorry I wasn't there for you. Rest in peace.
