“ I worked with Isaiah at Camp Kuponono this summer. I came in later than the counselors since I was just the camp photographer, but Isaiah was one of the ones who made me feel welcomed!

My favorite memory with Isaiah was when we were surfing as the sun was going down during the staff bbq at White Plains.. it was getting dark; the sun was setting on our right over the water and there had just been a rainbow on our left toward the mountains. It was hard trying to catch a wave since it was really just our first time surfing, but we didn't want to turn in just yet even though there were only 3-4 of us still out there; we were both so determined, laughing on our boards! I kept thinking to myself—man, I wish I had my camera at that moment—but I did my best to capture it in my memory. 🍷

Another favorite memory with him was when he let me ride the back of the guys' truck the first weekend I was at camp—such a little gesture but I felt so cool! I made him take a selfie so I could remember the thrill of zooming down Oahu (photo attached—he probably didn't want to take that selfie, haha, but he soon found out along with the rest of the camp that I was "the picture lady")!

He made my job as a photographer easy—he always gave his all, and it made such dynamic shots! To see photos of him at camp, you can visit the @campkuponono Facebook page or view his gallery here: https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/16CSYx847TIKGew5lssE65wO1Av_T3cFK?usp=share_link

I didn't get to know Isaiah until later but he was generous, thoughtful, and reached out. ☐ Rom. 8:28

“ *I was a team member with Isaiah at camp this summer. We hiked diamond head in Hawaii and he chose to walk beside me and talk because he saw how much I was struggling emotionally that day.
He opened up and encouraged me for two hours that day to keep living and pursue God. I won't ever forget how much he cared and the kind heart he had.*

“ I love Isaiah Winkley! He would always remind me that he loved me more than anyone of my peers in college. I remember him having a joyful and bright personality full of fun and humor. He was a truly unique man and His kindness, loyalty, and friendship was special to me. If there was any support I needed, he was there. Isaiah provided hugs and smiles and a loving friendship towards myself and I would love to have him back in my life. In 2019, I spent a few weeks with you all on Christmas break. Your whole family was so kind and welcoming. I am forever grateful!

Your love and care for him was so bright and obvious. It was a made a positive impact on me and how a family should function. Having Isaiah in my life was of considerable benefit. I am sure he will continue to be lovingly remembered and missed.

“ We served at camp this past summer of 2022. Isaiah and I knew of each other before then at PCC, but we were complete strangers. Through the challenges and laughter camp brought about for us, we became friends. I won't ever forget how red he got choosing to sit in the back of uncle Kevin's truck everyday living the island boy life hahah. He was the kind of friend who was always eager and ready to listen and to share a big hug. It was obvious he gave his heart to the Lord, and it was evident by how loud he led our cheers and how he sat in the quiet with his camper's inner troubles. He would always check on me to see if I was doing all right throughout camp; his little acts of kindness left so much meaning. I am blessed to even just be around his light for a little while, and it'll always continue on in my heart and memories. He made his time count, and encourages me to this day to do the same, and for that I'm forever grateful. — Danielle Borlagdan

“ Having only known Isaiah for two years I was always glad to see him when he came to UBC to hear his Dad preach. I especially remember Isaiah's last words to me. He said "I got to go now." Little did we know that he was heading to his home with Jesus.

May God bless and comfort each of the Winkley family and all of their many friends.
