

Jacob Landon Owens

July 15, 2001 - June 9, 2024

Jacob Landon Owens born July 15, 2001, passed away June 9, 2024. Jacob was a very special young man who touched many lives from a very young age right up until he went to be with his Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Jacob was born in Columbus, Ga., where he spent his first 9 years. He then moved between Hokes Bluff, Alabama and Newnan, Ga. until 2020 where he lived exclusively in Newnan.

He was born with Duchennes Muscular Dystrophy, a disease that is never satisfied until it has wrecked a young boy's body. He fought this disease bravely and with the heart of a warrior to the very end. Jacob met his Savior while listening to his favorite gospel music (Alan Jackson).

Jacob attended Church of the Highlands in Newnan, where he would make a joyful noise and enjoy every song service. He would always pay close attention to the weekly message, and often comment later in the day.

His hobbies and interests included Xbox, the weather, classic country, southern rock and gospel music. He loved cars and racing. Although he could never drive, he did once go 156mph in a race car. He could talk cars with almost anyone. He even mentioned that his last ambulance ride was rough because it had leaf springs. If you know, you know.

Jacob was a huge Bama fan, and his favorite color by far was yellow.

Family and friends are asked to wear Bama colors or yellow as a last tribute to Jacob.

“ Donnie & Tammy, I remember the time we all went to see James Gregory. I think Jacob enjoyed it more than we did. Oh how he laughed and laughed. It was a good time and a good memory of Jacob for me. You are all in my prayers❤️
