“ I was thinking about Jim today and am very saddened to hear of his passing, especially belatedly. We were friends through high school, and he was as sincere a person as I have ever met. Rest well.

“ Jim was a super-smart and kind man. I enjoyed knowing him for many years as a customer of mine at Wishbone. Although he had health challenges, he was always optimistic and very determined. I saw him not too long ago and marveled at how he could remain independent and communicative despite his limitations. I will miss him and his smile. My thoughts and prayers are with the family during this time of loss.

“ He was a very kind and intelligent young man. We lived in the same subdivision as his family when he was born. So sorry to hear of his passing.
