

James E. Boren

March 17, 1948 - October 27, 2025

Mr. James "Jim" Edward Boren, 77, of Newnan, GA, passed away Monday, October 27, 2025 at Piedmont Newnan Hospital.

Jim, a homebuilder, moved to Georgia fifty-three years ago from his hometown of Moundsville, WV. He could find humor in almost anything and took great pleasure in making people laugh. He loved his family and fraternity brothers, the mountains of his home state and those of north Georgia, WVU, and fishing. He especially loved his trips to Canada and Alaska with relatives and friends.

Survivors include his wife, Rie; daughter, Amy Trask; sons, Joshua Boren (Brittany), Jacob Andrew Boren; and five grandchildren.

The family wishes to thank the Hospice staff at Piedmont Hospital, as well as all the fifth-floor nurses who took such good care of Jim.

“ I met Jim at the Glen Dale Teen Center in the seventh grade. We played the same position (right guard) on the MHS freshman football team, he was first string, I was second string. He started dating a girl who was besties with the girl I was "going steady" with, so we double dated almost every weekend through high school. We traveled to Ocean City, Maryland for a week in his 1959 Chevy, with no floor boards in the back seat and a heater that would not shut off, just before entering West Virginia University where we were roommates freshman year. A couple years after college, Jim took a job with a builders supply company and they moved him to Atlanta. Two years later, after coming down from Saint Louis on a beautiful fall weekend to visit him, I managed to get transferred here myself. Our birthdays were only 9 days apart, so back when we thought getting a year older was cool, we celebrated together when we could. He was one of the kindest, and undoubtedly the funniest friend I have ever had, and I will miss him and his wonderful sense of humor until the day that I die. RIP my dear, old friend.
