“ Aunt Millie, I can't find the words to tell you how much I will miss my Uncle Jim. Looking at him was like looking at my Daddy. It took my breath away every time I saw him. When we told Braydon that Uncle Jim had gone to heaven to be with God and Great Poppy he didn't have a moments sadness ~ he said " Yahoo, the brothers are together again!" Out of the mouths of babes. I'll thank you and Uncle Jim again for returning to Georgia because I wouldn't trade one minute of time I had with ya'll. Thank you both for loving me and helping me every time Mama was sick. I love you both more than you will ever know. Always, Donna Ann

“Millie and family, When I received word this morning that Jim had passed away, my very first thoughts were vivid images of Jim "fixing things, working on things." I could see Jim opening and closing blinds at church. Jim searching for bicycles that needed just a little work to make ready for an under-privileged child. Jim, Millie, Debra and me placing stepping stones to form a walkway from the parking lot to the basement. Jim helping me fry chicken in the fellowship hall. Jim filling my PC printer cartridges with ink. Jim and Millie putting a kennel together for the puppy I adopted (John was out of town working) Jim at the last minute fixing my battery operated lights in my table arrangement for the Mothers Day Treasures. If it could be fixed; Jim could fix it. I am sure Jim has a very special place in heaven, where he will be known as "The Fixet Man" Jim has won his final war with pain, and now he is walking with Jesus. Jim is one of the best friends I ever had and his memory will remain with me forever. I cherish every minute we spent together. I pray God holds you in the palm of his hand and eases your sorrow and very soon turns your grief and sadness into beautiful memories. My heart is breaking for your loss and rejoicing for heavens gain! With love and warmest blessings for the days ahead, Elaine Lee
