“ *Dear Sybil', Amy and Family,
We didn't know Jeffre, probably knew him when he was a young Boy. It is so hard to loose a Son, Brother, Daddy and a Good Friend. We question God when this happens, why?
May the Good Lord give you peace, love and contentment during this very difficult time.
God loves you and we do too,

“ I've known Jeff since first grade. He was always fun to be around and was always a cut up. Jeff didn't meet a stranger and if you were his friend whether if you seen and talked on a daily basis or if you just got a few moments here and there he didn't treat you no different. When he called you a friend you were one until the end. So Im not saying goodbye to my friend. Im saying see you on the other side. RIP Jeff you get to REST IN THE ARMS OF THE LORD.

“ Jeff was supposed to be 80 driving around in an ol beat up pick up.. and spitting out the window with the radio blaring. Knew Jeff from grade school and church on up. We were fairly tight in high school. He had a great heart.. he just didnt want to show it to everyone. Weve lost a good man... but he will be up there helping make a spot for us. Our hearts and prayers goes out to Jeffs family. We love you all.

“ Oh so many memories back in the K mart parking lot days and running flat rock! I watched him sling them poor coon dogs off of the back of the truck and slap in the mud lol He'd even talk me into running my VW bug in the mud! He'D look down from his big ol truck mid-sentence, spit in the floor board, and start right back talking to ya! The best of all was My senior prom...he went with me as friends...and oh my word...I was so impressed...Jeff showed up at my house clean cut, shaved and in a white tux, and the big grin on his face. We had the best time just cutting up and dancing with everyone! He will be missed by many, praying for his family <3

“ My greatest memories of Jeff come from school days, I remember from high school and from a few times he stopped in at Smith's grocery, the red Ford F-250 he drove that may have used more oil than the gas. I remember him telling me one day way back then that he never had to change the oil in that truck because it burned through it so fast. I loved that truck. Rest well Coggin
