“ Jack, you will be missed with all your jokes and the love you always gave to anyone you would meet. Tim, I wish you joy and peace with the passing of your father and to your other siblings. Jack was a wonderful type of guy who was an angel himself in many ways. Thanks for the opportunity of meeting this angel who is now back with his creator.

“ He is the best man i've know he has helped many people like inventing the silicone that goes on the back of sticky notes. He will be remebered as not a man but a man with courage and self-coffidence
