Joseph Kozicki, 93, died Friday, January 17, 2020 at the Monarch House in Newnan, Georgia.

He leaves his wife of 68 years, Lucille (Ateniese) Kozicki; his daughters, Susan Quadrio, Lauren Benet, and Beverly Dunham, his nine grandchildren, and five great grandchildren.

He met his wife at a dance in Passaic, New Jersey, where he ultimately lived, and raised a family until his retirement. Mr. Kozicki enjoyed a retirement of more than 30 years, in the southern climates of North Carolina and then Georgia.

Mr. Kozicki had a passion for the outdoors, and loved nothing more than to walk, hike, and commune with nature, where he found peace and solace. He also enjoyed taking care of his one-acre retirement property. Another passion of his was playing the harmonica, which he taught himself to use, and singing Polish songs that he learned from his mother.
