“ I'm quite upset to have missed the Memorial Service. I flew to Cancun for vacation on 10/26 and was unaware until the afternoon of 11/5 that Mike had passed. I first met and worked with Mike in 1988, have been in touch ever since, most recently residing in close proximity at work for the past three years - at least when travel for work didn't take him elsewhere. Mike has graced us with his presence in our home, lunched with me at Long Horn a few times in recent times, with groups of friends many times, and we've shared quite a few laughs over the years. Mike was a great guy as everyone has attested to. With his extensive experience, his supervisor regularly reminded us that there wasn't anyone else who possessed the expertise and who could fill the Radar Engineer niche he depended on Mike to fill. He will be well and truly missed by many, many people. I (and on behalf of my wife who knew him as well) send my deepest condolences to you, but our faith assures us that death is a transition, not an end, and that we will all be together with our loved ones again. I hope that you're able to find some comfort in that belief.

“ I was truly sad to hear of Mike's passing, and your loss. It seems like such a short time has passed since we sat together in class at OSU. He always had a way of making me laugh at that "Hall" sense of humor, that I thought only I got, but now know that everyone appreciated. My heart is with you in this time of sadness. I hope you can take comfort, as I have, in knowing that we have another angel watching over us. Love Buddy

“ I was so upset when I learned of Mike's passing last Friday. The first time I met Mike was in 1987 at Fort Fisher, NC. He came down from the region to assist John Carreira and myself (my first radar project) with an interlock problem. John and I just could not figure it out. Mike spent hours drawing every component in the circuit on a chalk board. It was very technical and detailed; not to mention accurate. By the end of the week he had corrected multiple problems and basically saved the day. That problem solving ability defined Mike. He would not quit a problem. I had pleasure of working with Mike on and off for ten more years. During that time I enjoyed my FAA experience more than I ever have. Mike never got visibly upset or frustrated. On the contrary he always had a quick smile. He was a very good friend and the world is a lesser place without him. My love and sympathies to the family.

“ Laura, No words can express the hurt Nancy and I feel. Mike was like a brother to me. Mike and I worked many years together putting in RADARs. I wish that I was able to provide the support that he provided me when I had his position. I could always count on him to be there when I needed his help. One memory I have is when Mike and I worked on a Ft. Lauderdale radar project together where he and I had to work outside in blistering heat and driving rain to get the radar back into service on time. He never complained. As I go back through the many years of memories working with Mike, the hurt that I feel is usually overcome by laughter when I think of some of the fun times we had working together. He always had some prank that he would pull on me when I was working too hard on a problem at the radar sites to help lighten me up. even when I moved on to a different position, Mike would always send me an email on how things were going. We talked about him buying a boat and the four of us taking off to the Bahamas. However, when I think back to the story of when you, Mike, Mark, Terry all took a trek across the country on motorcycles; I had some reservations. May God be with you in your sorrow and give you the strength to continue to do the things that Mike and you had planned for.

“ Laura, I knew Mike for 18 years through the FAA. We were in the same van pool and often had the same boss. He was such a neat guy with so many wild stories of his growing up years. As a pilot, we both had an interest in flying. He'll be missed by so many. Mike fully loved and lived life. May God take him home and give you His comfort. Dave Shelby
