He graduated from Florida Southern College and had a 25 year career in the US Air Force. He joined the Army Air Corps and served in World War II as a Bombardier. He flew a mission on D Day in France. After the war, he completed flight training and was assigned as a pilot in the Strategic Air Command. The Army Air Corp was transferred to the newly formed US Air Force.

formed NDC, National Data Corporation, the first company to have a nationwide data collection system with real time response. After retiring from that business, he formed a real estate business and sold and managed office buildings and farm land. He found a large tract of land in middle Georgia, and called it 5B Ranch. He and Geri spent many happy times on “the farm”.

“ I met Phil when he and a few others from the new startup NDC came to Ga Tech to see the UNIVAC 1108 looked and how it worked. I was in charge of the 1108 operation and demonstrated every thing to them. as they were leaving with the Univac salesman, Col Beegle turned to me and handed me his card and said, "If you are interested in new job call me soon". I did, and I started work with NDC on March 15, 1968 and spent the next 10 years supervising a shift of operators on the Univac 494 computer system. Phil was a great boss and we spent a lot of time together while running the 24/7 real-time operation. I am Terry Bentley from Jonesboro, GA 678-993-9401.
