“ Sam was a great man with a smile on his face. I didn't get a lot of time with him but we had a lot in common. Sam and I are brothers as Marines. We had a lot of conversations about our times in service. The things that had changed from when he was in and when I was in. One thing that doesn't change is customs and traditions. Sam and both love the sport of wrestling and would share our "war" stories of matches we had. I had the privilege of sharing my son's big moments with him of his last season. He loved watching the growth of a young man in his sport. Sam will be missed by many and will not be forgotten by most. Semper Fidelis Marine. We have the watch.
