She was born April 12, 1940 in Bayshore, NY to the late James Stewart Scott and Carlotta Marion Adams Breier.

Sandy grew up on Long Island, and graduated in 1961 from Hartwick College in Oneonta, NY with a BS in Nursing and a minor in Psychological Counseling. She began study toward her Master's Degree at Teacher's College of Columbia University in NYC, but left to marry Ed in 1966. She was passionate about her work in labor and delivery and became the first RN instructor in Lamaze childbirth preparation in the US. Marion, NY to provide home health nursing and aide services to the infirm, elderly and ill at home. Her agency employed many caregivers in Ulster County, NY and she was an active health care provider in the area for several years, retiring in 2000. She then founded NanaPennyPockets, a group for heirloom sewers, and shared her creativity with that group of talented ladies for several years. She was a devout Catholic, active in Marriage Encounter, Cursillo, and the charismatic renewal, as well as many years of service in the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Sandy is survived by her sons Edward (Christa) Cerul of Stanfordville, NY, James (Mindy) Cerul of Boiling Springs, SC, and Thomas Cerul of Mechanicville, NY; daughters Heather (Anthony) Chirillo of Newnan, GA and Sara (Howard) Eaton of Joelton, TN; 19 grandchildren: Heather and Lauren Cerul; Anthony, Nicholas, Anna, Michael, Elizabeth, Gianna, and Vincent Chirillo; Aiden and Taya Cerul; Margaret, Lillian, and Isaac Cerul; Emily, Abigail, Madelyn, Caralyn, and Josef Eaton.
