“ Stephanie and I met professionally in 2001, and what a wonderful relationship we enjoyed. Professionally, she was a talented, intelligent, witty and such a dedicated worker. She was incredibly "loyal" -- she moved from VA to GA to add value to an organization and the people she cared about.

We became friends and shared so many of life's challenges and joys. Friends listen and support each other -- Stephanie was always there.

Stephanie loved her husband and cared for him during his long illness. She was a devoted wife. Her sons were her life, and she could become a "mama bear" when someone crossed them. "Grandchildren" - she told me her heart grew several sizes bigger when she first saw her granddaughters. Those girls were her pride and joy!

I saw Stephanie last on April 2nd, and we had such a great time in fellowship with many friends. Our last conversation, the week before she died, was full of sharing, encouragement and plans to have lunch at a new restaurant as soon as she felt better. It is hard for me to grasp that she isn't just a phone call away and her friends and I will have that lunch, without her being physically present -- but, she'll be there in spirit as we laugh, listen and support each other. Rest in Peace, my friend -- We miss you.

I am sharing a few of my favorite photos (the last one was taken April 2nd.)

“ Mark and Marr, I am so sorry for your losses. This must be a very difficult time for you both. But I hope you find comfort in the vision of Lord gently taking your mother's hand and leading her to her new heavenly home where your dad was waiting to welcome her home. If anyone in my family can do anything for you, please just let us know.

“ Stephanie was my neighbor when we lived in Georgia. She and I walked together, talked about anything and everything. We went to Weight Watchers, together. She was a dear and beloved friend. I miss her and her words of encouragement. I am so sorry for your loss.

“ Stephanie always found time for anyone who needed a friend. I will always be grateful for her strength when I had none for myself.

I spent Mother's Day in Charleston, South Carolina this year and discovered the following prayer in a run-down roadside restaurant where I ate the best fried chicken of my life!

A Prayer for Today

This is the beginning of a new day. GOD had given me this day to use as I will. I can waste it—or use it for good, but what I do today is important, because I am exchanging a day of my life for it! When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever, leaving in its place something that I have traded for it. I want it to be gain and not loss, good and not evil; success, and not failure; in order that I shall not regret the price I have paid for it.

“ I have so many memories of the times we would all get together at Steph and Johnny's. They camped down here with Matt and Mark when Joe and I had our grandson, Jacob, visiting us too. She was fun to be with and I will miss her.

May the Peace of the Lord be with Sean, Tracey, Matt and Mark and their families and His Spirit lift theirs.

“ When I first came to the Department of Defense Education Activity (DoDEA), Stephanie helped me immensely getting acclimated to my new surroundings. She was always kind to me and a riot to talk to. I missed her when she left Headquarters. I miss her even more today.

“ in 2011 I was blessed to meet Stephanie at a local weight watchers meeting, Stephanie and I sat together and talked and laughed every Saturday

She was so welcoming and friendly towards me and encouraging.

Stephanie and several of the ladies were like an extended family to me.

I will miss her and pray for comfort for her survivors.

“ Stephanie and I travelled together for work quite often when she was employed by the Domestic Dependent Elementary and Secondary Schools. One time ,while we were in Puerto Rico, we took a kayaking trip at night to the bioluminescent bay. I remember Stephanie being so scared to get in the boat. She finally got in and we paddled out in the dark through the mangrove trees to see the spectacular lighted bay. It was an awesome experience and I am glad that I was able to share it with her.

“ I am deeply saddened by your loss. Stephanie was such a joyous and special person. She frequently made up laugh out loud at Weight Watchers meetings. She had a phenomenal sense of humor. I have three Crepe Myrtle bushes in my yard that she gave me a few years ago from her own yard and when they bloom, I always smile and think of her. I will miss her sweetness. May God grant you comfort in your loss.
