Damn I hadn't seen Terry in forever. I was best friends with his son Brannon. He was always cool to me. I'm sad to hear he passed away

“ I've known Terry for a good while, as he was a customer of mine. He was always so sweet and always spoke so nicely about his wife, Mary Jane. I am very sorry to hear of his passing.

“ Terry was my best friend [I have very few] every time or Sunday that I saw him he always said " how are ya doing brother?" my response would be taking it one day at a time brother man and he would say..." AMEN BROTHER".

With me being deaf I have no one to talk to during the week and it's hard sometimes but terry always told me to come and visit him so one day I did.

Oh, how it help me so much being able to not only talk to someone but to my best friend at that.

Then I started joking with him about him watching Spongebob Squarepants and oh how we laughed I told him I had not laugh that hard in a long time and thanked him.

I also remember a few years back he asks me to follow him to his truck [I said you're going to finally going to give me your truck?] he said no you need to keep dreaming on that one ..ok...so we went to his truck and he gave me a beautiful watch.

I ask him why he said " because I love you brother and I've seen that you don't have one [which was true.]

But none of that is why Terry was my best friend...pause

Terry Birdsong was my best friend because he did not judge me or look down on me when he said come on over...he meant it Terry Birdsong was real and he was

MY BEST FRIEND...THANK'S TERRY LOVE YOU BROTHER!!!!
