“ Tommy was never idle. He always wanted to be working - wanted to be up and about accomplishing something. He had a tremendous work ethic. He helped me at my business for many months and even when he went to get lunch, he would come back and tell me he was "multi-tasking" and doing some marketing while he was in the lunch line! I loved hearing his stories of how he grew his distribution business he had with Elayne over the years. He was very proud of that and he should be. He accomplished so much in his life. He had a lot of wisdom in the merchandising business. I felt like I learned a lot from his experience. I count myself blessed to call him my friend.
