Henry was a colorful character from the old school of Coweta county and had a hundred stories to tell about life in Coweta county "back in the day". First met him when we moved to Jim Starr rd. in 1985 and he was our mail carrier. Saw him several times at Kenny Coggin's auto body shop where he held court on several occasion's reliving his tales and laughing and joking. Some of the stories best not be repeated here but most were entertaining to say the least. We will miss his red -faced tales and facts about life, mules and fainting goats. Rest in peace Henry.
