“ I remember when I was about seven years old, Tommy and Larry went to Panama City with us on a vacation. They were in their teens. They went with my dad out on a deep-sea fishing excursion.

The men on the excursion pulled together a jackpot for whoever caught the largest fish. My dad, Fletcher, was the winner with a 40+ pound grouper. My dad, Tommy, and Larry all took pictures with the monster upon their return.

Both Tommy and Larry were very excited about the entire trip as well as the catch. For the rest of the trip, all I heard was Tommy and Larry talking about how they help dad reel that monster in. In the car right on the way home, that's all they could talk about. By the time we got home, you would think that they had caught the fish themselves. I think that's where Tommy got bit by the fish and bug.

When Tommy and Sheila were on their honeymoon, they stopped to visit us in Jacksonville, it was no surprise that Tommy one to go out deep-sea fishing again. So my dad, Tommy, and my brother, Tony all went out deep-sea fishing.

I love Tommy very much, and he will be missed. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family.

“ I have many memories of Tommy and Shelia coming over for visits with their sons, when I was young. Especially when we lived in Riverdale. Of course, I heard a boat load of stories from my mom and grandparents.

It is always difficult to lose family, but if they accepted God's salvation through, Jesus Christ, and we are Christians ourselves, we have great peace and comfort. We know we will see them again.

I regret that I am unable to attend, both my parents are fighting off a cold. If I could, I would raid my dad's tackle box and pin lures all over my dress for Tommy...LOL.

Tommy, I know how hard it is to lose a grandpa; especially a good one. John, Cuz, I love you. You are all in my prayers.
