“ I was so sorry to hear of Vic's passing. It was my pleasure to work for him at Atlanta Ceiling. He was a wonderful man with a tremendous love of life. Vic's smile was contagious, his positive attitude constant. My memories of those days always make me smile. My sincerest condolences to the Japour family. May his spirit soar! - Linda H. Walker

“ Vic was such a character and brought a special light into mine and Jerry's life. We left Newman five years ago for Cumming as Jerry is dealing with Parkinson's and needed to be near our girls. Remember when we had paired Justin with our Jennie. He seems to have done well without our intervention. Jennie finally got twins so God seems to still be in charge. Peace to you and Justin.

“ Hey buddy. That's what he often called me during dozens of rounds of golf at White Oak. It's been twenty years since our last round on the links, and I remember every round with you was more laughter than golf. Today my laughter is mixed with tears. Larry, Tom, Frank, Dennis, Pete, Richard, Bobby, Rocky and all the dozens of wonderful guys in the old MGA guard; we are all better human beings because of you. I've often thought about you and Pam and Justin, and of the people I've met through the years I never met anyone that had a love story like yours. Pam, your sweetheart from SPHS and Justin the sparkle that everyone could see in your eyes.

Too many memories and all of them good.

“ *I thought of Vic as my occasional and always friend. Don't get me wrong, he was my friend, but not like most others. I should explain. We met in high school, but our friendship really began at class reunions; which meant we only got together every five years. Fortunately for me, Vic was one of those special people who, immediately upon seeing me, made me feel welcome, if not special, as though no time had passed since we were last together. This takes a person generous of spirit, possessed of great bonhomie, and a willingness to offer his friendship without caveats. That was Victor.
Rest peacefully my occasional and always friend. I will miss you.

There should be an "and" in there. With all due apologies to Johnny Cash, Sue is not my middle name.

“ How very much Vic influenced my life - going back to when Richard and I worked for him at Atlanta Ceiling.. and slow afternoons playing gin rummy at the office - and he would so often let us win. A mountain of a man in so many ways: permanently etched in his face was that great big smile and always ready with a joke. I admired his integrity and honesty. Nights spent at your house playing guitars til late in the evening. How long ago? Well even before Justin was born. Although we drifted apart when I left Newnan, I often thought back to the younger more carefree days. Gone from here.. hope God let's him play the guitar rather than a harp. Banks
