“ Vic, I was deeply and incidentally shocked upon hearing about your untimely death. I recall my last interaction with you was last Wednesday (4/1/15) during our weekly meeting; I can still visualize you sitting across from me. Somehow, the image of you sitting across from me is all that keeps coming to mind when I think about you. Your passing reminds me of my mortality, it reminds me that life is but a dream and that we need to make the most out of it. Instead of dwelling and stressing on the mundane things in life, that we should focus on the bigger things and have fun because we don't know when we will have to depart this earth. Do rest in peace my friend and God's blessings on your family.
